Mild	Moderate	Severe
I'm usually able to keep my symptoms in check. Even though my skin does occasionally flare-up, it doesn't tend to interrupt my everyday life.	My symptoms can vary and can sometimes get in the way of daily life. My skin tends to feel itchy, irritated and often flares up.	My dry skin can sometimes feel tricky to manage, it tends to flare-up regularly and often interferes with daily life, stopping me from doing the things I'd like.
